

Greek 102 – Elementary Ancient Greek

Spring 2017

Instructor: David Stifler david.stifler@duke.edu

Classroom: Allen 229

Day/Time: MWF 10:20-11:10

Office Hours: Allen 005 W 2:00-3:00pm F 1:00-2:00pm

Scope and Structure of the Course

This is the second half of the 101-102 sequence for Ancient Greek. In this semester we will learn more advanced aspects of grammar, vocabulary, and reading skills for Ancient Greek, finishing the first volume of the Athenaze textbook and its accompanying workbook and then moving to the second. By the end of the course you will be prepared to read authentic (i.e. unsimplified) Greek documents and literature, which we will work through together in order to put your reading skills to the test.

Class will consist of a mixture of lectures, drills, reading aloud, and question & answer sessions. We will work together as a class, and in smaller groups. Assignments will involve a similar blend of drills, written exercises, reading, and vocabulary and grammar study. It is essential that you spend at least as much time with the material outside the classroom as you do in class, since our time in class is limited and in order to use it effectively we will rely on knowledge gained from your work on assignments.

This class will involve a lot of work, but you will quickly find your hard work to be rewarded, especially if you are able to build upon the skills you developed in Greek 101. Class sessions will be collaborative and fun, and your instructor is available outside of class to answer your questions in office hours and via e-mail. Make sure to take advantage of all the resources available to you, and you will do well.

Textbooks

Athenaze: An Introduction to Ancient Greek, Book 2. 3rd edition (Revised). M. Balme, G. Lawall, J. Morwood. Oxford, 2015.

Workbook II to Athenaze, 3rd edition. Oxford, 2015.

Grading

Your grade for this course will be derived as follows:

20% Homework & Participation	Written assignments (listed as WRITE) are due on the date listed ; your participation in class is vital for both your success and that of your classmates.
20% Quizzes	Short quizzes will (usually) be given once per week, on grammar, vocabulary, and reading, as a regular check-up on your progress in the course, covering one or two chapters' worth of material.
40% Midterm Exams	You will have two midterm exams, on February 17 and March 24 ; these will be cumulative exams that focus on five chapters' worth of material.
20% Final Exam	The final exam for this course will be on Monday May 1 9:00am-12:00pm and will be a cumulative assessment of your learning.

Assignments will be announced on a weekly basis, and the pace of the course may be adjusted depending on how the class as a whole progresses; the exam dates are, however, fixed. Reasonable accommodation (following university guidelines) will be made for class absences, including make-up opportunities for exams; quizzes will not be allowed to be made up.
